Dear Sir,
I checked the system and found that it only supports 2.4 GHz Wi-Fi, which generally has lower speed, and more interference compared to 5 GHz networks.

This could be a reason for the slow internet performance, especially in an office environment where multiple devices are using the same band. To improve the internet speed, we can try using a USB Wi-Fi adapter that supports 5 GHz. Just wanted to share this in case it helps. Please let me know anything else is needed.

Thank you,
Sanskruti Phalke
